Fairfield's Eco Team

It's that time of year again when we end up with loads of cards. Whilst they're lovely to receive and display in our homes, once the festive season is over, what should we do with them?

- We could put them into recycling, either in the ORANGE bag kerbside or in a card recycling bin in some supermarkets and shops. If you are recycling them you should remove any glitter or decorations.
- A better and more fun way to deal with these cards, is to reuse them to make something else. Here are some ways that our Eco team have used cards, decorations, gift tags, a gift box or a notebook, but there are loads more ideas if you do a safe search on the internet.

Perhaps in January, you could tell your friends and teachers what you did with your cards.
